No discrimination and citizenship

Hello everyone,

We are students at the Lycée Anne Marie Javouhey in Cayenne, French Guiana, which is in South America.

Europe also exists on the American continent through French Guyana, which is part of South America.

Today we're here to find solutions to discrimination and citizenship.

Sensitizing young people to diversity is essential in our society to make them open-minded, curious, tolerant, compassionate and caring adults.

Because sometimes they don’t realize the impact of their words or the effect they have on others, whether it’s the color of their skin, the way they dress, their height or weight.

That’s why it’s important to make them aware of everyone’s diversity.

From primary school onwards, young people need to be taught to tolerate others as they are, whatever their background. This prepares them for today’s society. It will open them up to living together with our differences.

In Europe, 80% of young people of all nationalities are under the age of 25. That's why it’s important to promote equality and respect the rights of everyone, regardless of their origin, culture, religion or nationality.

Let's unite! And say no to discrimination for a united, strong and supportive European Union.
